Child Custody

6. ☐ The court does NOT have jurisdiction over the custody arrangements of the child(ren) pursuant to the Uniform Child Custody and Jurisdiction Act, RSMo §452.440 et. seq. and therefore enters no further orders with respect to the custodial arrangements of the child(ren).

   ☑ The court has jurisdiction over the custody arrangements of the child(ren) pursuant to the Uniform Child Custody and Jurisdiction Act, RSMo §452.440 et. seq.

   The court approves the provisions of Part A of the parenting plan marked exhibit A pertaining to the custodial arrangements of the child(ren) and finds that the custodial arrangements contained in said parenting plan are in the best interests of the child(ren). Therefore, the court orders the provisions of Part A of the said parenting plan pertaining to the custodial arrangements of the child(ren) and incorporates by reference all of the terms and conditions pertaining to the custodial arrangements of the child(ren) set forth in Part A of said parenting plan as if fully set forth herein.

   The sheriff or other law enforcement officers shall enforce the rights of any person to custody or visitation pursuant to §452.425.

   In the event of noncompliance with this order, the aggrieved party may file a verified motion for contempt. If custody, visitation, or third-party custody is denied or interfered with by a parent or third party without good cause, the aggrieved person may file a family access motion with the court stating the specific facts that constitute a violation of the custody provisions of the judgment of dissolution, legal separation, or judgment of paternity. The circuit clerk will provide the aggrieved party with an explanation of the procedures for filing a family access motion and a simple form for use in filing the family access motion. A family access motion does not require assistance of legal counsel to prepare and file.

Child Support

7. ☐ The court does not have jurisdiction to enter any orders with respect to the support of the child(ren).

   ☑ The court orders the provisions of Part B of the parenting plan marked exhibit B pertaining to the support of the child(ren) and incorporates by reference all of the terms and conditions set forth in Part B of said parenting plan as if fully set forth herein.
