Re: Deckelman v. Deckelman, Division of Retirement Accounts Assets

Dear Patrick:

There exist some loose ends that still need to be tied up from the Marital Separation Agreement that Sara and Tom signed in April. More specifically, the marital portion of the retirement accounts have yet to be divided in a fair and equitable manner. My client has directed me to review the financial documents and to reach a resolution for the outstanding division of retirement funds. Based on my review of the financial documents, Tom is owed $52,515.48 pursuant to the terms of the Marital Separation Agreement.
