Decisions of the Judicial Finance Commission

Following, in chronological order, are all Commission opinions issued since its inception in 1982. To link to the summary and full text of an opinion, please click on the case name. If the Supreme Court of Missouri has reviewed a particular decision, a link to that review will be provided from the decision page. The decisions have been converted to portable digital format (PDF) to accommodate various word processors. (If you do not already have Acrobat reader, which is necessary to read the PDF files, you may obtain it for free at the Adobe website. A set of free tools that allow visually disabled users to read documents in Adobe PDF format is available from access.adobe.com.)

The summaries of the Commission decisions and Supreme Court reviews are prepared by judicial staff for the interest and convenience of the reader. The summaries do not reflect the opinion of the Judicial Finance Commission or the Supreme Court of Missouri. They are unofficial, and they should not be quoted or cited.

- Click “” next to “Group” beneath the “Pages” header. Assigning the content group is a critical step. The group assigned determines the security. If an incorrect group is selected, the wrong people will have access to edit, update, or delete a page. Content groups are directly related with Appendix B: Page Security Groups.

Creating a New Page

Security & Content Groups

- Security Groups contain people who have access to web pages
- Content Groups contain web pages
- Security Groups are assigned to Content Groups (Example: the Becoming a Lawyer: Board of Law Examiners content group has the CMS_BOLE security group set to it)
- By selecting a Content Group, you're selecting the people that get to Edit/Publish the page

Creating a New Page

- All of the content group names are listed on the left side of the screen. You have to know which group you want to create a page within before you proceed. For this example, I'll be selecting "Becoming a Lawyer – Missouri Board of Law Examiners". Once again, pages have to be correctly grouped for security reasons.

- When adding text to the page body, make sure you follow the page standards. The only modification to the body font should be size and/or bold. DO NOT set a font type. There is a CSS (cascading style sheet) file that sets font formatting. Changing these setting within the Content Management editor can alter how a page is displayed once published.

Mandee Edwards, chief disciplinary counsel

Clients have a right to expect a high level of professional service from their lawyers. In Missouri, lawyers follow a code of ethics that guides their practices and their relationships with clients. When lawyers fail to meet the ethical standard, they are subject to disciplinary action.

Contrary to common belief, it is the Supreme Court of Missouri -- not The Missouri Bar -- that is in charge of the state's lawyer discipline system. To protect the public, the Supreme Court oversees a mechanism for investigation and, where necessary, discipline of lawyers who fail to meet their professional obligations.

Supreme Court Advisory Committee

The Supreme Court also has an advisory committee that may issue formal opinions under Rule 5.03. Attached are the three most recent formal opinions:

Some cases are resolved without coming before this Court, by means such as diversions, substance abuse interventions, admonitions, fee dispute resolutions or other informal resolutions that are worked out by the parties and are designed to assist the lawyer and resolve minor disputes with clients. These are not referred to the Court, and the Court does not issue orders or opinions in such cases.

The Supreme Court's disciplinary orders and opinions, dating back to January 1, 2006, now are available online.

Supreme Court Disciplinary Actions

The Supreme Court of Missouri imposes discipline by order or opinion in the form of reprimands, suspensions (with or without probation) and disbarments. The Court's decision whether to impose discipline and what discipline to impose is not bound by any agreement made by the parties as to the discipline they believe should be imposed. This Court may agree to the discipline the parties suggest, or it may impose a greater or lesser discipline depending on the facts of a particular case. The Court will place all of its orders and opinions imposing discipline on the Web site.

Office of Chief Disciplinary Counsel

3335 American Avenue
Jefferson City, Missouri 65109-1079
Phone: 573-635-7400
Fax: 573-635-2240
Office Hours: Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
Maridee Edwards, chief disciplinary counsel

Clients have a right to expect a high level of professional service from their lawyers. In Missouri, lawyers follow a code of ethics that guides their practices and their relationships with clients. When lawyers fail to meet the ethical standard, they are subject to disciplinary action.

Contrary to common belief, it is the Supreme Court of Missouri -- not The Missouri Bar -- that is in charge of the state's lawyer discipline system. To protect the public, the Supreme Court oversees a mechanism for investigation and, where necessary, discipline of lawyers who fail to meet their professional obligations.

Supreme Court Advisory Committee

The Supreme Court also has an advisory committee that may issue formal opinions under Rule 5.03. Attached are the three most recent formal opinions:

Some cases are resolved without coming before this Court, by means such as diversions, substance abuse interventions, admonitions, fee dispute resolutions or other informal resolutions that are worked out by the parties and are designed to assist the lawyer and resolve minor disputes with clients. These are not referred to the Court, and the Court does not issue orders or opinions in such cases.

The Supreme Court's disciplinary orders and opinions, dating back to January 1, 2006, now are available online.

Supreme Court Disciplinary Actions

The Supreme Court of Missouri imposes discipline by order or opinion in the form of reprimands, suspensions (with or without probation) and disbarments. The Court's decision whether to impose discipline and what discipline to impose is not bound by any agreement made by the parties as to the discipline they believe should be imposed. This Court may agree to the discipline the parties suggest, or it may impose a greater or lesser discipline depending on the facts of a particular case. The Court will place all of its orders and opinions imposing discipline on the Web site.

The advisory committee's opinions issued into 1996 are published by The Missouri Bar in a deskbook and its supplement and are searchable online. More information about the deskbook and search function -- as well as about requesting a formal advisory opinion -- is available on the Bar's Web page about the advisory committee.

Appendix C: Troubleshooting Potential Problems with the Judicial Website

Getting repeating script errors

These script errors will occur if trying to view all pages at once. If you are getting these errors, click “Continue”. Clicking “Stop” will cause issues. It is best to view pages by the associated group.

“Today in the Courts” content is not displaying in preferred order

News items are currently displayed in one page. The user will need to go to Website Content → Elements → news. The name of the page is current news links. The user can rearrange news items as desired and delete an item to remove it from the website. Currently, setting a page to expire on a certain date is not removing the item from the website.

Link to a county is wrong or goes to a dead link (Circuits with their own website)

The following circuits have their own website which will open when the user navigates to Know Your Courts → Circuit Courts → a circuit court from the list → county.

- 7th (Clay)
- 13th (Boone, Callaway)
- 16th (Jackson)
- 19th (Cole)
- 21st (St. Louis County)
- 22nd (St. Louis City)
- 25th (Maries, Phelps, Pulaski, Texas)
- 27th (Bates, Henry, St. Clair)
- 30th (Benton, Dallas, Hickory, Polk, Webster)
- 31st (Green) – this opens from inside the standard circuit web page
- 38th (Christian, Taney) – this opens from inside the standard circuit web page

Check with the circuit to determine if they are aware of any problem on their website. If they are, they are probably in the process of fixing the problem or have contacted their vendor who supports the website. If the Judicial webpage should go to a different page within the courts website, get the URL of the page so it can be changed within ASBRU. On the Judicial page to be changed make sure the old link is unlinked first, then make a new link with the correct URL. Save and Close the page.

If content on a courts page needs to be updated, this should be handled by that specific court. Currently, the exception is the 13th Circuit. Contact Paul Strope. Give him the name of the URL and he can send the page to who will edit it. Open the page, change the content and send the page back to him to deploy.

Who to contact to get information on the Judicial Website updated

Notify Terri Norris and she will either update or transfer to the appropriate staff to determine if website information needs to be updated

Drug Treatment and/or Casenet link timing out

Casenet and Drug Treatment applications reside on the same server. Check to see if the applications are up. Casenet URL: <http://www.courts.mo.gov/casenet>

Drug Treatment URL: <https://www.courts.mo.gov/treatmentcourt/logon.jsp>

Content was on the old website but not on the new website

Notify Terri Norris and she will determine if the new pages should exist.

Suggestions concerning the Judicial Website

Notify Terri Norris and she will determine if suggestions will be completed.

PDF file will not load into Media Library

Make sure the .pdf file is being loaded correctly. Go to Media Library → Files → Group. Choose the group the file belongs to. Click the Add New button and fill in the title. Browse to the location of the file you wish to create and select “Save and Close” button.

Navigation pane appears at the bottom of web page

Within the content editor, highlight the whole content of the page and click the Remove Format icon on the toolbar. Put any formatting back in and preview the page. If previewing correctly, “Save and Close”.

Page not appearing in correct hierarchy on navigation pane

The navigation pane items appear alphabetically according to the page up feature in ASBRU. Open the page that is not appearing in the navigation pane correctly in the editor. Click on “Content Relations” then click the “Select” button next to Page Up. A content box will open up. Select the group of the page that is the parent to the page you are setting. This will open up every page within the group selected. Select the page that is the parent, then press “OK”, “Save and Close”.

If the page title contains numbers and the pages are not displaying in the desired order, place a “0” in front of the number on the title page. Example: If the numbered page items appear 1, 10, 11, etc. but you want item number 2 to display after number 1, renumber to: 01, 02, 0310, 11 etc.

Removing pictures

Navigate to the page whose picture needs to be removed. In the editor, click on the picture and hit the delete button. This will remove the picture from the page.

Cannot get rid of bold formatting

When content on the page is bold and removing the formatting on the content you wish not to be bold does not work, highlight the whole content of the page and click the Remove Format icon on the toolbar. Reformat the page and preview it to make sure it appears correctly then Save and Close the page.

.php extension changes to .asp extension

Navigate to the page that has a URL in the content that is a .php extension. Highlight the link and unlink it using the “unlink” icon on the toolbar. Next, highlight the text you want to be the link. Click the “insert link” icon on the toolbar. On the hyperlink properties page in the Address box, you will have to “escape” the “.” in the URL address.

Example: URL – <http://www.ncbex2.org/php/missouri/login.php> will need to be changed to <http://www.ncbex2.org/php/missouri/login%2Ephp>.

Bullets do not appear in the content editor

If the text is left aligned, you will not see the bullets in the editor. You will see them if you preview the page. Remember to only hit the bullet list button once. Hitting this button more than once may cause formatting issues. If you want to see if the bullets are in the editor before you preview, you can center the text and the bullets will show.

Cursor does not appear in the editor

Start typing and the text should show up. The cursor should then appear.

Cannot see changes made on the website

All changes made in ASBRU will need to be published before changes will be seen on the website.
