L.G. (Mother) appeals from the trial court’s judgment terminating her parental rights to her daughter, S.Y.B.G. (Child). Mother contends that there was insufficient evidence to support the grounds for termination and the court’s finding that termination was in the child’s best interest.

AFFIRMED.

Division II Holds:

- 1) The trial court did not err in finding that grounds for termination of Mother’s parental rights existed pursuant to § 211.447.5(3), RSMo, because there was clear, cogent, and convincing evidence to support the court’s findings.

- 2) The trial court did not abuse its discretion in determining that termination of Mother’s parental rights was in Child’s best interest because there was substantial evidence to support the court’s finding that termination was in Child’s best interest.
