Kevin Airis appeals the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis' grant of summary judgment in favor of the St. Louis Science Center. The Circuit Court determined that Mr. Airis' case was barred by the applicable statute of limitations.

AFFIRMED.

DIVISION ONE HOLDS: The Circuit Court did not err in granting summary judgment in favor of the St. Louis Science Center. This case was governed by the statute of limitations provided in the Museum Property Act, Section 184.116.1. Mr. Airis brought this action more than five years after the missing items were lost and so his case is barred.
