v.)	Appeal from the Labor and
)	Industrial Relations Commission
WILSON WASTE SYSTEMS, LLC and)
DIVISION OF EMPLOYMENT SECURITY,)	Filed:
Respondents.)	June 28, 2013

Martin Zych (“Claimant”) appeals from the decision of the Labor and Industrial Relations Commission (“the Commission”) denying his petition for unemployment benefits. Claimant argues the Commission erred in finding he committed misconduct because Claimant was confused by the drug policy of Wilson Waste Systems (“Employer”) and did not willfully violate the drug policy.

AFFIRMED.

Division Three holds: The Commission did not err in finding Claimant was disqualified from receiving unemployment compensation because Claimant committed misconduct connected with his work.
