Travis James Fowler ("Fowler") appeals from the motion court's denial of his Rule 29.15 motion for post-conviction relief following a jury trial. In his sole point on appeal, Fowler argues the motion court erred in denying his amended motion following an evidentiary hearing because trial counsel was ineffective in failing to object to incriminating hearsay testimony.

AFFIRMED.

DIVISION THREE HOLDS: Because Fowler has not demonstrated outcome-determinative prejudice resulting from trial counsel's failure to object to the deputy's brief, limited statement that the victim told her mother about an incident that happened during a friend's party, the motion court did not err in denying Fowler's Rule 29.15 amended motion.
