OPINION SUMMARY
MISSOURI COURT OF APPEALS EASTERN DISTRICT

DIVISION FOUR

DAVID L. JONES,	)	No. ED110507
	)
Appellant,	)	Appeal from the Circuit Court of
	)	St. Louis County
vs.	)
	)	Honorable Krista Peyton
IMPACT AGAPE MINISTRIES, ET AL.,	)
Respondents.	)	Filed: June 6, 2023

Mr. David Lee Jones ("Mr. Jones"), a professional musician, appeals the small claims court's judgment finding in favor of Impact Agape Ministries, a church in St. Louis County, C. Kenneth Haynes, the church's pastor, and Hosea Jackson II, the church's assistant pastor (collectively, "Respondents"), on Mr. Jones's claim for breach of contract following a trial de novo. Mr. Jones raises two points on appeal. To the extent we understand Mr. Jones's points relied on, they both appear to argue that he successfully proved quantum meruit and the small claims court's judgment is unjust.

DISMISSED.

DIVISION IV HOLDS: Because we are unable to discern Mr. Jones's legal arguments and because, to the extent we could understand Mr. Jones's brief, it substantially fails to comply with the mandatory requirements of Rule 84.04, we may not review the merits of Mr. Jones's claim. Furthermore, even if we could consider the merits of the claim Mr. Jones attempts to appeal, Mr. Jones's argument fails to follow the required legal analysis for either "against-the-weight-of-the-evidence" or a "misapplied-the-law" claim. Therefore, Mr. Jones's appeal is dismissed.
