DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE FORMS PACKAGE

Introduction

The Unauthorized Practice of Law

These forms are provided at no cost to you by the Missouri Supreme Court Committee on Access to Family Courts so that you may have access to the Missouri Courts. It is a crime for another person to charge you a fee for preparing these forms for you unless that person is a licensed lawyer. If anyone other than a lawyer attempts to charge you for preparing these forms, you should notify the Office of Chief Disciplinary Counsel, 3335 American Avenue, Jefferson City, Missouri, 65109.

General Information about All Forms

Information that you enter on these forms can be saved on your computer ONLY if you are using Adobe Acrobat or the free Adobe Reader version 7.0 or higher. If you are using an earlier version of Adobe Reader, you should probably upgrade at this time. (www.adobe.com)

The forms listed below are interactive. You can enter the information on these forms before you print them. If you fill the forms in on your computer, much of the information you enter on one form is automatically transferred to other forms. For example, if you type your first name on the "Petition for Dissolution of Marriage," your first name will also appear on the other forms.

Some forms refer to the husband and wife as the parties, while other forms refer to the parties as the Petitioner and the Respondent. The Parenting Plan refers to the Mother and Father. It is assumed that you are the petitioner, or the person filing the case. Because of this, you must indicate whether you are the Husband or the Wife so that information from one form can be automatically transferred to the other forms.

This package also contains bookmarks. These bookmarks help you to navigate throughout these forms. In addition, there are "links" embedded in the forms. These links are usually green, and can take you to a related location in the forms.

If your spouse signs the "Answer" so that service of process is not required, then you only have to file one copy of the "Petition for Dissolution of Marriage", "Statement of Income and Expenses", "Statement of Property and Debt and Proposed Separation Agreement", and "Parenting Plan". If your spouse does not sign an "Answer", then you must file one additional copy of all of these forms. You should also keep a copy of these forms for your records.

Some additional forms may be required by some Missouri Courts. You should check with your local court.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1. Petition for Dissolution of Marriage (Form CAFC001)

This is the first form you should complete. Information that you enter on this form will be transferred to all the other forms in the package.

2. Certificate of Dissolution of Marriage (Form CAFC065)

Most courts require that you file two copies of the Certificate of Dissolution of Marriage.

3. Statement of Income and Expenses (Form CAFC050)

This form requires that you list income and expenses for both you and your spouse. A lawyer can assist you in finding out this information.

4. Statement of Property and Debt and Proposed Separation Agreement (Form CAFC040)

READ THE INSTRUCTIONS ON THIS FORM CAREFULLY.

If both you and your spouse agree on the disposition of property and debt and on all issues concerning maintenance, you may both sign this form. This "Separation Agreement" can then be introduced into evidence at your hearing.

5. Respondent's Answer to Petitioner's Petition for Dissolution of Marriage (Form CAFC010)

Your spouse may sign this form if he or she does not want to be personally served. By signing this form, your spouse is allowing the court to decide your case. Your spouse may also use this form to disagree with your statements on your forms.

6. Judgment of Dissolution of Marriage (Form CAFC070)

This is a "proposed" judgment. Different courts handle the preparation of the judgment in different ways. In some courts, the judge will direct you to prepare a judgment, and in other courts, the judge will prepare the judgment.

7. Filing Information Sheet (Form CAFC067)

This form is required by most courts to enter the information about your case into the Court's computer system.

8. Parenting Plan (Form CAFC501)

This form is only required if there are unemancipated children of this marriage. If there are no unemancipated children of this marriage, then you do not have to print this form, nor do you have to file this form.

There are two parts to this form, Part A and Part B. Part A deals with custody issues of the children, and Part B deals with support issues of the children. You must complete both parts of the Parenting Plan.

If you have different custody or support arrangements for some of the children, you must complete a separate Parenting Plan for each set of children.

A dissolution of marriage proceeding can substantially affect your financial and personal life for many years. A lawyer is trained to assist you in protecting your rights.

Statement of Income and Expenses

Are you Petitioner or the Respondent? (Check one of these boxes)

- I am the Petitioner. (The party that filed the original petition)
 I am the Respondent. (The party that answers the original petition filed by his or her spouse)

Are you the Husband or the Wife? (Check one of these boxes)

- I am the Wife.
 I am the Husband.

You must fill in the amounts for both you and your husband or wife. If you do not know the exact amount for your spouse, you should estimate the amount to the best of your ability. DO NOT LEAVE THESE AMOUNTS BLANK.

Why does the court require this information?

The amount of income and expenses of each party is significant in a dissolution of marriage proceeding for several reasons. First, if there are unemancipated children born of the marriage, the court must determine the amount of child support to be paid by one party to the other party. Missouri Supreme Court Rule 88.01 and Form 14 provide the basis for the calculation of a presumed amount of support. The amounts you enter on this "Statement of Income and Expenses" may be used by the court in calculating the amount of child support.

Second, the amounts entered on this “Statement of Income and Expenses” may be used by the court in determining whether one party is entitled to maintenance. Maintenance is spousal support paid by one party to the other. Maintenance was formerly called alimony. If a party does not receive maintenance at the time of dissolution, and the judgment is not subject to modification, the party cannot come back to court to request maintenance in the future. A party may be entitled to maintenance if the party lacks sufficient property to provide for his or her reasonable needs or if the party is unable to support him or herself through appropriate employment. See RSMo. §452.335.

Third, income and expense amounts may be used by the court in determining the amount of attorney’s fees to be awarded a party. The court has the power to order one party to pay the other party’s attorney’s fees. RSMo. §452.355.

If you cannot accurately estimate the income and expenses of your spouse, there are methods available to discover exactly how much your spouse earns and spends. These methods are usually beyond the ability of non-lawyers, and it is strongly suggested that if you do not have an accurate estimate of how much your spouse earns and spends, and these issues would be relevant to your case, then you should contact a lawyer to assist you.

The court may require you to file a more complete “Statement of Income and Expenses”. This would include a more detailed analysis of income and expenses.

Please type or print clearly in black ink. A copy of this form MUST be sent to your spouse. The information in this form is open to the public.
 All pleadings that you file with the court are required to contain the case number and division number (if applicable). Failure to include the case number on your pleading may cause your pleading to be filed in the wrong case. If your case has not yet been filed, then you do not have to enter the cause number on this form.

You must fill in all blanks for Husband and Wife with an amount even if the amount is zero.

WARNING: Read Carefully

You are encouraged to consult with a lawyer in the preparation of this document and the presentation of your case to the court. A dissolution of marriage proceeding can substantially affect your financial and personal life for many years. A lawyer is trained to assist you in protecting your rights.

Statement of Property and Debt and Proposed Separation Agreement

Are you Petitioner or the Respondent? (Check one of these boxes)

- I am the Petitioner. (The party that filed the original petition)
 I am the Respondent. (The party that answers the original petition filed by his or her spouse)

Are you the Husband or the Wife? (Check one of these boxes)

- I am the Wife.
 I am the Husband.

What does this document cover?

There are two parts to this document. Part One is your division of property and debt and Part Two pertains to spousal support or “maintenance.” This document does not pertain to child support or custody. Issues addressing child support and custody are contained in a parenting plan.

Do I have to file this document?

Yes. You must file this document with either your “Petition for Dissolution of Marriage” or your “Answer,” even if it is not signed by both parties.

What is a separation agreement?

It is an agreement in which you and your spouse agree to a distribution of property and debt and to provisions concerning maintenance and attorney’s fees. If both you and you spouse sign this document, it is called a “Separation Agreement.” It does not include provisions for child custody and child support.

Can the court do something different than what I have proposed?

Absolutely. Even if both you and your spouse have signed the agreement, the court is not bound by it. If the court finds that your agreement is “unconscionable” or does not divide all property and marital debt, it will not be approved by the court. The court can divide the property in any manner it considers fair, and it may or may not order maintenance to be paid.

Part One – Division of Property and Debt

What is the most common mistake unrepresented parties make in their dissolution case?

Without a doubt it is the failure to correctly list all marital and nonmarital property and marital debt. The rest of this form explains in detail how to avoid this mistake.

How do I complete Part One?

Part One consists of these instructions and six tables.

Table 1 - Marital property to be received by Wife

Table 2 - Marital property to be received by Husband

Table 3 - Nonmarital property to be received by Wife

Table 4 - Nonmarital property to be received by Husband

Table 5 - Debts to be paid by Wife

Table 6 - Debts to be paid by Husband

You must list all of your marital and nonmarital property and marital debt on one of these six tables.

Use a separate row for each item of property or debt. You should draw a line through all rows that do not contain an item of property. This is very important because someone could alter this document after you have signed it. Keep a copy of this document after you have signed it.

What is marital property?

RSMo §452.330 defines marital property. Usually marital property is property acquired by either spouse during the marriage of the parties other than property acquired by gift, inheritance, or in exchange for nonmarital property. This means that all wages earned during the marriage are marital property. All property owned by the parties is presumed to be marital property.

Nonmarital property can be converted to marital property by placing a spouse’s name on an account or title. Also, a marital interest can be acquired in nonmarital property by the contribution of marital assets to the increase in value of the nonmarital property. Finally, income from nonmarital property during the marriage of the parties is marital property.

Marital property to be awarded to Wife should be listed in Table 1 and marital property to be awarded to Husband should be listed in Table 2.

What is nonmarital property?

Nonmarital property is property that was acquired prior to the marriage or property that was acquired during the marriage by gift, inheritance, or in exchange for nonmarital property. Nonmarital property is sometimes also called “separate property.” Additionally, some state teacher retirement benefits are considered nonmarital. RSMo. §169.572.

Nonmarital property to be awarded to Wife should be listed in Table 3 and nonmarital property to be awarded to Husband should be listed in Table 4.

Can property be marital and nonmarital?

Yes. If an item of property is partly marital and partly nonmarital, then it should be listed under both the marital and nonmarital sections. For example, if one party had earned pension benefits for five years prior to the marriage and continued to earn the same pension benefits for five years during the marriage, one-half or 50% of the pension and retirement benefits are marital and one-half or 50% are nonmarital. In that situation, the pension and retirement benefits would be listed both under marital and nonmarital property.

What is “fair market value”?

This is the amount someone would pay for this item of property today. It is not what the property cost when you purchased it. A ten year old automobile has a value far less than the amount you paid for the automobile.

What does “security” mean?

The mortgage on a home is traditionally secured by the home. When you finance the purchase of an automobile, the company that loans you the money is listed on the title to the automobile. They too have a security interest in your car. Usually, a debt is secured by an item of property if the person to whom you owe the money can take the item of property if you fail to pay the debt. The schedules of debt ask you to list any security for that debt. You must also list the property that secures the debt under the property listings.

What if I don’t agree with this “Proposed Separation Agreement”?

You must take appropriate actions to protect your interests. CONSULT A LAWYER. Do not fail to respond if you have been served with these papers as the court may proceed without any further notice to you.

Do we have to list our property even if we’ve already divided it?

Yes, it must still be included on one of the tables.

What property should I list on this form?

ALL PROPERTY AND MARITAL DEBT must be divided in a dissolution of marriage proceeding. Your dissolution of marriage may not be final unless this is done.

This includes the following types of property and debt:

- Real estate
- Motor vehicles
- Bank accounts
- Pension and retirement plans and profit sharing plans
- Stocks, bonds or other securities
- Life insurance
- Cash on hand
- Household goods
- Personal goods
- Trust interests
- Businesses or partnerships
- Debts owed to you or your spouse by others
- Any interest in pending litigation or suits to be filed
- Farm equipment, animals or crops
- Interests in contracts made and not performed
- Other assets.

What debts should I list on this form?

You should list all loans from any individual, bank, credit card company, credit union, savings and loan association or other lending institution. Include all debts owed by either you or your spouse. Make sure to list all credit cards and any amounts owed pursuant to any bankruptcy or other repayment plans.

Debts that the Wife should pay are to be listed in Table 5 and Debts that the Husband should pay are to be listed in Table 6.

Do I have to list property even if my spouse's name is not on it?

Yes, you must list all property owned by you alone, by your spouse alone, and by you and your spouse together. You must list property even if it is not in joint names. Any property in which either you or your spouse claim ANY interest whatsoever, MUST be listed.

In many instances, you will not be able to sell your property or receive your retirement unless you prove that these items were listed in your dissolution of marriage judgment.

Do I have to list property that either of us is buying at the present time?

YES. You must list all property that either you or your spouse is purchasing by making monthly payments. So, even if you owe money on your car or home, it still must be listed. Actually, it must be listed twice: once as an item of property and once as a debt secured by the property.

Do I have to list property I owned before the marriage?

Yes. This is normally nonmarital property, but under some circumstances it may be considered marital property.

Do I have to list property my spouse owned before the marriage?

Yes. Just as you had to list property you owned before the marriage, you should also list property your spouse owned before the marriage. Once again, this is normally nonmarital property, but under some circumstances it may be considered marital property.

I don't know what my spouse owns so how can I list it?

You should hire a lawyer to assist you. A lawyer has the ability to assist you in locating the assets of your spouse.

My mother added my name to her house, but I have not paid any money toward the purchase. Do I still have to list this property?

Yes. This would normally be nonmarital property, but you still have to list it.

Do I have to list property that I acquired after the separation?

You are still married so any property or debt that you have acquired since your marriage has to be included.

What happens if I don't list all the property and marital debt?

It would be a VERY BIG mistake not to list all your property and marital debt. Your dissolution of marriage may not be final, and your spouse will be able to come back in the future and try and get this item of property. In some cases, you may not be able to receive your pension or sell your property without proof that your dissolution of marriage judgment listed the property.

Should I list my pension information even though I am not entitled to receive any benefits at the present time?

Yes.

Does this mean that I have to list every dish and towel that we own?

No. You do not need to list property if it is of minimal value. If the item of property is worth less than $100.00, you may omit it from your list.

What if I acquire some property or debt after I file my case?

If you acquire any additional property or debt during the time this case is pending, you must notify the court of that fact at the time of your hearing. If you dispose of any property or pay off any debt during the time this case is pending, you must notify the court of that fact at the time of your hearing.

What if I run out of space on one or more of the tables?

You may make copies of any of the six tables if you need additional room for more property or debt. When you have listed all the property and debt, you should number the pages. Make sure you write "Not Applicable" or "N/A" in each box under "Item of Property" or "Item of Debt" that you do not fill. (Someone could fill this in later with some other information)

After you have completed Part One, you should complete Part Two of this document which pertains to spousal support or maintenance.

Important

This document is placed in a court file, which is an open document available to the public. In listing your bank or other accounts, or your credit card or other debt, do not include the entire account number. You should include only enough information to distinguish your account from other accounts owned by you and your spouse. For example, in listing a credit card number, you should include only the last four digits of the account, such as xxxx-xxxx-xxxx-1234.

RSMo. §452.375.1(2)

5. Types of Decisions

Daily decisions shall be made by the parent having actual physical custody at the time of the decision. The parents shall cooperate in establishing mutually agreeable policies regarding such decisions in order that routine decisions remain as consistent as possible.

C. Emergency Decisions

Emergency decisions are decisions of an urgent nature. They affect the health and safety of the children and have to be made before it is possible to contact the other parent.

The parent who is with the minor child requiring emergency care may make the emergency decision. The parent making the emergency decision shall advise the other parent of the nature and extent of the emergency as soon as possible.

6. Access to Medical, Dental and Educational Records of the Children

18. Relocation

RSMo. §452.377states:

“Absent exigent circumstances as determined by a court with jurisdiction, you as a party to this action are ordered to notify, in writing by certified mail, return receipt requested, and at least sixty days prior to the proposed relocation, each party to this action of any proposed relocation of the principal residence of the child, including the following information:

- (3) The date of the intended move or proposed relocation;
- (4) A brief statement of the specific reasons for the proposed relocation of the child; and

Your obligation to provide this information to each party continues as long as you or any other party by virtue of this order is entitled to custody of a child covered by this order. Your failure to obey the order of this court regarding the proposed relocation may result in further litigation to enforce such order, including contempt of court. In addition, your failure to notify a party of a relocation of the child may be considered in a proceeding to modify custody or visitation with the child. Reasonable costs and attorney fees may be assessed against you if you fail to give the required notice.”

The residence of the child may be relocated sixty (60) days after providing notice unless a parent files a motion seeking an order to prevent the relocation within thirty (30) days after receipt of notice. Residential Schedules

1. Weekend and Weekday Schedule

Each exchange should be written on the Weekend and Weekday Exchange Schedule. A sample entry for one of the exchanges may be as follows: “5:30 p.m. Father receives children”. This means that at 5:30 p.m., Father will begin a period of time during which the children will be with him.

The last person to receive custody on the Weekend and Weekday Schedule must be different than the first person to receive custody on the schedule because after each two week period, the cycle repeats itself. There is always an even number of exchanges for a two week period.

A sample two week exchange schedule is located on Page 5 of these Residential Schedules.

2. Vacation Schedule

You must select one and only one of the following two options.

- No specific weeks will be set aside for our vacations.
- Each parent may designate _____ week(s) each year during which they will have exclusive physical custody of the children and the regular or special exchange schedules do not apply. Father shall have first choice of weeks in odd-numbered years. Mother will have first choice of weeks in even-numbered years. The parent with the first choice of weeks must designate the vacation weeks by March 31 of each year.

During this period, the holiday schedule still applies. Neither parent can select a week which would deny the other parent of a holiday to which they are entitled.

3. Holidays

A different schedule can apply on holidays. The times each parent will have with the children during the holidays are set forth on the Holiday Exchange Schedule on page 3 of these Residential Schedules.

Include the name of the parent that will have the holiday and how the holiday will be structured. For example, Memorial Day is always on a Monday. Should the Memorial Day holiday begin at 6:00 p.m. on Sunday before Memorial Day? Alternatively, should it include the entire weekend? If the entire weekend is included, then it is possible that one parent may not have a weekend with the children for several weeks.

Holidays and vacations do not alter the “Week One” or “Week Two” designation, but they do apply ahead of the regular schedule. If the holiday schedule conflicts with any other schedule, the holiday schedule takes precedence.

Since the parties do not specify an exchange location, the exchange would occur at the default location in Paragraph 12 in Part A of the Parenting Plan.

This entry contains a mistake. It is unclear whether it refers to 5:30 a.m. or 5:30 p.m.

SAMPLE

This entry is also a mistake. Mom already has the children with her so she can't receive the children. There should always be an even number of exchanges for any two week period.

Since Dad is the first parent to receive the children on this schedule, Mom must be the last parent to receive the children. Mom has the children at the start of this schedule.

Child Support Calculations

Child Support

Child support is an amount of money paid by one parent to the other parent for the support of the children. In addition to a regular monthly child support payment, other expenses of the children may be divided between the parents as child support. Part B of the Parenting Plan contains the calculation of child support and the allocation of the children's expenses.

Form 14

Form 14 is a form used to calculate a presumed amount of child support. Form 14 is part of this parenting plan and is found on Part B, Page 8. The court will usually follow Form 14, however, if the court finds that the child support calculated pursuant to Form 14 is unjust or inappropriate, it will set child support at a different amount.

Parents must also determine the allocation and amount of other expenses of the children such as medical and dental insurance, uncovered medical and dental expenses, day care, and other extraordinary expenses. These expenses constitute part of the child support obligations of each parent. These other expenses may be included in the Form 14 calculation, or they may be paid independently of the child support payment.

Parents may agree on an amount of child support and the allocation of expenses. The court does not have to accept this agreement and can set different support amounts. Even if the parents have agreed on an amount of child support, THEY MUST STILL CALCULATE A FORM 14 FOR THE COURT. As they work through this parenting plan, they will also be entering the information that is required for Form 14.

Missouri law further provides that "An award of joint physical custody does not preclude an award of child support pursuant to Section 452.340 and applicable supreme court rules in determining an amount reasonable or necessary for the support of the child." RSMo. §452.375.12 Child support may be appropriate even if both parties have custody of the children an equal amount of time.

4. Party to Pay Child Support

One party must be called the "parent paying support" and one person must be called the "parent receiving support". This is true even if no child support is going to be paid.

Mother will pay regular monthly child support to Father.

Mother is referred to as "person paying support" and Father is referred to as "person receiving support".

Father will pay regular monthly child support to Mother.

Father is referred to as "person paying support" and Mother is referred to as "person receiving support".

No regular monthly child support will be paid by either parent.

Mother will be referred to as "person paying support" and Father will be referred to as "person receiving support" for the purpose of the Form 14 child support calculation only.

No regular monthly child support will be paid by either parent.

Father will be referred to as "person paying support" and Mother will be referred to as "person receiving support" for the purpose of the Form 14 child support calculation only.

Medical and Dental Insurance for the Children

Cost of Medical or Dental Insurance for the Children

The cost of medical or dental insurance for the children is the monthly amount of any premium paid. If the parent's employer deducts the amount of premium from his or her pay, then the cost of medical or dental insurance includes the amount of the premium paid. It does not include the cost of medical or dental insurance for the parent, the parent's spouse, or other children that are not covered by this parenting plan. The cost of medical or dental insurance for the children is included on Line 6c of Form 14.

Form 14 states: "If the amount of the actual health insurance costs for the children who are the subject of this proceeding is not available or cannot be verified, the amount of the health insurance costs attributable to the children who are the subject of this proceeding shall be calculated by dividing the total monthly costs for the policy of health insurance by the total number of persons for whom the costs are paid or to be paid and then multiplying the resulting figure by the number of children insured under the policy who are the subject of this proceeding."

5. Parent Responsible for Medical Insurance

You must check one and only one of the following three boxes.

- Neither party is required to maintain medical insurance for the benefit of the children. A health benefit plan is not available at reasonable cost through either parent's employer or union. No support rights have been assigned to the state of Missouri and the Family Support Division is not providing support enforcement services to either party.
- Father shall maintain and pay the cost of medical insurance for the benefit of the children.
- Mother shall maintain and pay the cost of medical insurance for the benefit of the children.

6. Parent Responsible for Dental Insurance

You must check one and only one of the following three boxes.

- Neither party is required to maintain dental insurance for the benefit of the children. A health benefit plan is not available at reasonable cost through either parent's employer or union. No support rights have been assigned to the state of Missouri and the Family Support Division is not providing support enforcement services to either party.
- Father shall maintain and pay the cost of dental insurance for the benefit of the children.
- Mother shall maintain and pay the cost of dental insurance for the benefit of the children.

7. Medical and Dental Insurance for the Children

The total cost of medical and dental insurance paid by Father for the children is _____ per month.
The total cost of medical and dental insurance paid by Mother for the children is _____ per month.
You must enter an amount on both lines, even if you enter "0". These amounts should also be entered on line 6c of Form 14.

In the event either parent is required to maintain medical or dental insurance, the parent providing the health benefit plan shall provide to the other parent an insurance identification card.

If support rights have been assigned to the state of Missouri or the Family Support Division is providing support enforcement services to either party, the person paying support shall notify the Family Support Division regarding the availability of medical insurance coverage through an employer or a group plan, provide the name of the insurance provider when coverage is available, and inform the division of any change in access to such insurance coverage.

Health Expenses Not Covered by Insurance

8. Medical, Dental, Vision, or Psychological Expenses not Covered by Insurance

You must check one and only one of the following four boxes.

The person receiving support will pay all reasonable and necessary medical and dental expenses of the children not covered by insurance and the person paying support will reimburse the person receiving support for _____ percent of all such expenses that are actually paid by the person receiving support and are in excess of $250 per year per child. This does not include the uninsured extraordinary costs set forth in paragraph 9 below. No reimbursement of uncovered medical and dental expenses of the children will be allowed unless the person receiving support submits proof of such expenses to the person paying support in writing within 120 days of the date said expenses were incurred. Except for good cause, no legal proceedings seeking reimbursement will be allowed unless instituted within 360 days of the date said expenses were incurred.

Medical and dental expenses are defined by §213(d)(1)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(RSMo. §454.633.3 provides that if you have checked this first box in Paragraph 8 and you have not provided a percentage, then each parent will be responsible for one-half of all reasonable and necessary medical or dental expenses of the children not covered by insurance except as set forth in Paragraph 9 below.)

The person paying support does not have the financial resources to contribute to the payment of medical or dental expenses of the children not covered by insurance. The person receiving support will be responsible for all reasonable and necessary medical or dental expenses of the children not covered by insurance. This does not apply to the medical costs listed in Paragraph 9 below. RSMo. §454.603.5(2)

All reasonable and necessary medical or dental expenses of the children are covered by insurance. RSMo. §454.603.5(1)

The person receiving support has not substantially complied with the terms of the health benefit coverage. The person receiving support will be responsible for all reasonable and necessary medical or dental expenses of the children not covered by insurance. This does not apply to the medical costs listed in Paragraph 9 below. RSMo. §454.603.5(3)

Amount of Child Support

15. Presumed Monthly Amount of Child Support

Complete all applicable amounts. The court-ordered support amount is set forth in Part B, Paragraph 17.

The presumed child support amount calculated pursuant to Form 14 for six children is: _____.

The presumed child support amount calculated pursuant to Form 14 for five children is: _____.

The presumed child support amount calculated pursuant to Form 14 for four children is: _____.

The presumed child support amount calculated pursuant to Form 14 for three children is: _____.

The presumed child support amount calculated pursuant to Form 14 for two children is: _____.

The presumed child support amount calculated pursuant to Form 14 for one child is: _____.

16. Should the court order the child support pursuant to Missouri Child Support Guidelines?

You must check one and only one of the following two boxes.

Yes. The court-ordered child support is the same as the presumed children support amount. The presumed child support amount as calculated herein is not rebutted as being unjust and inappropriate.

No. The court-ordered child support is different than the presumed children support amount. After consideration of all relevant factors pursuant to RSMo. §452.340.8 and Form 14, the child support as calculated herein is rebutted as being unjust and inappropriate.

NOTE: Court-ordered child support will be set at the time of the court proceeding. The court is not bound by the suggestions of the parties and may set an amount greater or lesser than the suggested amounts of court-ordered child support set forth in this parenting plan. If the court approves and adopts this plan, then the support provisions herein will become the order of the court.

17. Court-Ordered Child Support

This is the amount of child support that actually will be paid by the parent paying support.

You must check all applicable boxes.

Six or More Children - The person paying support is to pay to the person receiving support _____ per month when the person receiving support is entitled to support for six or more children covered by this parenting plan.

Five Children - The person paying support is to pay to the person receiving support _____ per month when the person receiving support is entitled to support for five children covered by this parenting plan.

Four Children - The person paying support is to pay to the person receiving support _____ per month when the person receiving support is entitled to support for four children covered by this parenting plan.

Three Children - The person paying support is to pay to the person receiving support _____ per month when the person receiving support is entitled to support for three children covered by this parenting plan.

Two Children - The person paying support is to pay to the person receiving support _____ per month when the person receiving support is entitled to support for two children covered by this parenting plan.

One Child - The person paying support is to pay to the person receiving support _____ per month when the person receiving support is entitled to support for one child covered by this parenting plan.

NOTE: You should check each box that applies. For example, if this parenting plan pertains to three children, then you should check the boxes for three children, two children and one child. You should also enter an amount of support for three children, two children, and one child respectively. You must attach a Form 14 for each level. For example, if you have three children, then you must attach one Form 14 for three children, one Form 14 for two children, and one Form 14 for one child.

If you check one of the boxes above, you must check all the boxes below it. Once again, if you only check the box for two children and do not check the box for one child, then no support is owed when only one child remains.

18. Starting Date for Child Support

You must check one and only one of the following two boxes if either party is paying child support in Part B, Paragraph 17.

- The first child support payment is due on the date of the entry of the judgment.
- The first child support payment is due on _____.

Notification by the Person Receiving Support when Child Support Changes

Missouri law provides that “[u]nless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the judgment, provisions for the support of the child are terminated by emancipation of the child. The parent entitled to receive child support shall have the duty to notify the parent obligated to pay support of the child’s emancipation and failing to do so, the parent entitled to receive child support shall be liable to the parent obligated to pay support for child support paid following emancipation of a minor child, plus interest.” RSMo. §452.370.4.

Income Tax Considerations

19. Income Tax Dependents

The parties shall be entitled to claim the minor children as dependents for income tax purposes as follows: (Person paying support must be current with all support obligations as of December 31 of the tax year in which the child is to be claimed. Each parent will sign any appropriate documents to allow the other parent to make such claims.)

NOTE: The Form 14 calculation assumes that the person receiving support will claim the children as dependents. If the person paying support is entitled to claim one or more of the children, then the Form 14 guidelines are unjust and inappropriate and the second box in Paragraph 16 should be checked.

If the person claiming the children is not listed below, then the person receiving support shall be entitled to claim the omitted children as dependents in all years.

Name of Child	In odd numbered tax years, this parent will claim this child as a dependent	In even numbered tax years, this parent will claim this child as a dependent

Payment of Child Support and Wage Assignments

Wage Assignment

A wage assignment means that the child support is taken directly out of the paycheck of the person paying support. The amount withheld is sent to the Family Support Payment Center. The Family Support Payment Center will then forward the support to the person receiving support. Child support withheld pursuant to a wage assignment cannot be sent directly to the party receiving support. A record will be kept of all payments.

If a wage assignment is not ordered, then the child support may be paid directly to the person receiving support. The person paying support may also voluntarily send payments to the Family Support Payment Center. If the child support is not paid to the Family Support Payment Center, it is extremely important that each parent keep accurate records of the amount of child support paid. This means that the party paying support may not receive credit for his or her payments if he or she does not have receipts or cancelled checks. Because of this, it is proper to request a receipt from the parent receiving support.

If the person paying support is currently unemployed or self-employed, the wage assignment may still be ordered, but it will not take effect until the person paying support begins receiving regular wages.

20. Method of Payment of Child Support

You must check one and only one of the following five boxes if either party is paying child support in Part B, Paragraph 17.

- A wage assignment will not issue because a written agreement has been reached between the parties that provides for an alternative arrangement. Child support shall be paid directly to the person receiving support.
- A wage assignment will not issue because there is good cause not to require immediate income withholding for the reason that implementation of an immediate wage withholding would not be in the best interest of the child and the person paying support has made timely payments of all previously ordered support. Child support shall be paid directly to the person receiving support.
