Pamela Cook (Claimant) appeals from the decisions of the Labor and Industrial Relations Commission (Commission) denying Claimant unemployment benefits and declaring an overpayment for benefits already received.

REVERSED.

Division One Holds: The decision by the Commission that Claimant quit work without good cause on June 4, 2013 is legally inconsistent and barred by res judicata by an earlier Commission decision that determined Claimant was discharged by Employer on September 3, 2013, but not for misconduct. We reverse the decisions of the Commission finding Claimant ineligible for unemployment benefits and the finding of an overpayment.
