The Second Injury Fund appeals from an order of the Missouri Labor and Industrial Relations Commission (the “Commission”) substituting Beverly Edwards as a party to her deceased husband’s workers’ compensation claim pursuant to section 287.580.¹

APPEAL DISMISSED.

DIVISION THREE HOLDS: This court has a duty to determine sua sponte whether we have jurisdiction to entertain an appeal. Section 287.495 authorizes an appeal from the final award of the Commission to the appellate court. An award is final only when the Commission reaches a terminal, complete resolution of the case before it. Here, we find the Commission did not reach the merits of Ms. Edwards’s claim because it did not come to a complete, final resolution of all issues before it, and the award did not dispose of the entire controversy between the parties. Thus, the Commission’s order is not a final award. We dismiss this appeal based on lack of subject matter jurisdiction.
