

OPINION SUMMARY

MISSOURI COURT OF APPEALS EASTERN DISTRICT

STATE OF MISSOURI, Respondent,)	No. ED98680
)
v.)	Appeal from the Circuit Court
)	of the City of St. Louis
BRANDON MORGAN, Appellant.)	Filed: August 27, 2013

Brandon Morgan (“Defendant”) appeals from the judgment upon his conviction of one count of unlawful use of a weapon, Section 571.030(1), RSMo 2000.¹ Defendant argues the trial court erred in overruling his motion to suppress evidence and in allowing the State to cross-examine Defendant about the possible negative consequences of possession of a gun on his probation status.

AFFIRMED.

Division Two holds: The trial court did not plainly err in overruling Defendant’s motion to suppress evidence and in admitting the evidence of the gun, and Defendant’s statements pertaining to it. The trial court did not abuse its discretion in allowing the State to cross-examine Defendant about the possible negative consequences of possession of a gun on his probation status.
