Introduction

Boone and Callaway counties are progressive counties located in the center of the state at the crossroads of major east-west and north-south highways. Population growth and prospects for additional growth are placing increasing demands on county government. In 2010, according to U.S. Census Bureau, population for the 13th Circuit Family Court – Juvenile Division operated within a population of approximately 206,974. Noting specifically that juveniles age 5-18 make up approximately 14.5 percent of the total population. Demographics are of an urban, semi-urban, and rural composition with a unique degree of ethnic diversity. Boone and Callaway counties are the home to a significant number of minority populations, including Alaska Native, American Indian, Asian, black, Hispanic or Latino origin, Native Hawaiian and other Pacific Islander, in addition to the white population. According to the 2009 Quick Facts from the U.S. Census, Boone County has seen a 15 percent population growth between April of 2000 to July of 2009 and Callaway County saw an estimated population increase of 7 percent. It should be noted that 2010 Quick Facts were not available at the time of submitting this report. Also on the increase for Boone and Callaway counties is the Crime Index Rate. Since 2005, the Crime Index Rate for Boone County has risen from 3,656.4 per 100,000 to 3,854.6. In Callaway County this number has increased from 3,285.4 per 100,000 to 3,292.2. Crime Index Offenses are those which include: rape, murder, robbery, aggravated assault, theft, motor vehicle theft, arson and burglary. According to the 2009 Crime in Missouri Report, juveniles contributed to 11.1 percent of those arrested for forcible rape; 12.3 percent of aggravated assault arrests; 20.9 percent robbery; 39.1 percent arson; 13 percent murder; 27.3 percent for burglary; 24.8 percent theft and 23.5 percent for motor vehicle theft.

Referrals – Abuse/Neglect

Abuse/Neglect referrals are referrals due to physical injury, sexual abuse or emotional abuse inflicted on a child, other than by accidental means, by those responsible for the child's care, custody and control, except discipline administered in a reasonable manner.

Abuse/Neglect referrals are also received for failure to provide necessary care, by those responsible for the care, custody and control of the child. Necessary care includes support, education as required by law, nutrition, or medical/surgical care necessary for a child's well being.

Placement of Abuse/Neglect Children Under Court Supervision

Both Boone and Callaway counties have a deputy juvenile officer dedicated to monitoring the abuse and neglect caseload. This officer is committed to attending Family Support Team meetings and being an active participant in the permanency planning of children in care. Every effort is made to return children to the parental home as quickly as possible without jeopardizing their safety. The following chart shows the average number of children under court supervision, by type of placement.

Disposition

A referral to the Juvenile Officer may be disposed of in a variety of ways. Generally, the more serious the offense alleged in the referral, the higher the level of intervention. Informal cases are typically disposed by a meeting being held with the juvenile and family to caution them on the consequences of future referrals and, in some cases, to recommend counseling, tutoring, programs, other services from outside agencies, and/or services provided by the Juvenile Officer. Some cases may result in having a period of supervision by a deputy juvenile officer in an effort to coordinate services with other agencies. Cases wherein a petition and/or motion to modify is filed with the court are considered to be formal cases. The tables below provide dispositional outcomes for referrals disposed.

*In 2009, the number of petition/motion to modify filings show a decrease. On or about November 2009, the Juvenile Officer implemented non-compliance meetings. These meetings assisted in the decrease of petitions/motions to modify filed in 2009. Prior to filing a petition/motion to modify, a non-compliance letter scheduling a meeting with the Juvenile Officer is served to families who have not complied with the conditions of the informal adjustment agreement, which could include failure to pay the family court fee, attend a program, participate in counseling, etc.

Filings/Dispositions

Two staff attorneys make up the legal department. They are responsible for case filings and court appearances for Boone and Callaway counties. The charts below show the total number of filings along with the corresponding dispositions.

It should be noted that the number of cases disposed includes cases filed in the previous year. The number of filings reflects the actual number of cases filed in that year. When a petition is filed a case type of status, delinquency or abuse/neglect is assigned and if subsequent filings are necessary they remain coded as the initial case type assigned.

Docket Statistics – Abuse/Neglect

In the past when calculating the number of Abuse/Neglect hearings, Boone County staff counted sibling groups as one case while Callaway County staff counted sibling groups as individual cases. In 2010, both counties counted sibling groups as individual cases. It should be noted, due to continuances and/or mandatory review and permanency hearings, one specific abuse and neglect case could be heard multiple times in a year.

Commitments to the Division of Youth Services

In 2010, the number of total circuit commitments to the Division of Youth Services was 29. The circuit receives funding for the Intensive Intervention Model Program and Probation Services Enhancement Program from Division of Youth Services court diversion grant funds. Two deputy juvenile officers and a part-time family therapist are funded by these grants. A goal of these programs is to divert juveniles from commitment to the Division of Youth Services by enhancing services at the community level.

Certifications

Certification is the most serious action that can be taken in a juvenile case. This action allows the juvenile court to dismiss the juvenile court action to allow for prosecution in the adult criminal court. While some of these investigations remain at the Juvenile Officer's discretion, the Juvenile Crime Bill of 1995 made many of these investigations mandatory, based on specific statutory criteria. It should be noted that a mandated investigation may not always recommend certification.

In 2010, the number of total circuit certifications was three. These certifications were for serious offenses that included Unlawful Use of a Weapon, Armed Criminal Action, Assault in the 1st Degree, and Robbery in the First Degree.

Risk and Needs Assessments

A primary tool used by the Juvenile Division in delinquency and status offense cases is the Risk and Needs Assessment Form. A risk assessment is completed on juveniles at the point of intake and helps guide decision-making regarding disposition. A needs assessment is completed when the Juvenile Officer is going to provide some level of supervision and is used to assist with determining the level of programs/services that would best meet the youth's need.

The following are 2010 circuit statistics for each category of the most recent risk assessment completed on juveniles referred to the Juvenile Officer.

Community Service Work

Community Service Work

In 2010, 10,833 hours of Community Service Work were completed. To evaluate the impact that the CSW Program has on the community, one can multiply the number of hours completed by the rate of compensation equal to minimum wage. Using this formula, it is estimated that the community benefited at a rate of $78,539 in 2010.

Five Year CSW Comparison
Year	Hours Completed
2010	10,833
2009	11,185
2008	10,943
2007	10,790
2006	13,158

Community Service Work for Restitution

In 2010, a total of 682 hours were completed in the Community Service Work for Restitution program, providing $4,940 in restitution to victims who would not otherwise have received payment.

Five Year CSW for Restitution Comparison
Year	Number of Hours Completed	*Amount of Restitution Paid to Victims	Percentage to Total Restitution Collected
2010	682	$4,940	28%
2009	1,164	$8,347	35%
2008	915	$6,082	30%
2007	1,127	$7,327	32%
2006	1,290	$6,641	27%

* The available amount in this fund is based on juveniles who have been adjudicated in Juvenile Court and are assessed an Offense Assessment Fee up to $50.00.

Restitution

The Juvenile Division is committed to ensuring that victims who have suffered financial loss as a result of a crime committed by a juvenile offender receive restitution for their loss. The table below shows amounts ordered and collected in the years 2006-2010. The amounts collected will include amounts collected for restitution ordered in previous years.

In 2010, the Juvenile Officer implemented the Consequence Program. The Consequence Program is a one-time program for both the juvenile and their parent and/or custodian. To be eligible to attend the Consequence Program the assigned deputy juvenile officer must review the referral and juvenile's file to determine if the referral is legally sufficient; if the referral is the juvenile's only legally sufficient referral within the past six months; ensure the juvenile has not previously been under the supervision of the Juvenile Officer; ensure the juvenile is at least 13 years of age; and if the offense is a status offense (excluding parental referrals), an offense of shoplifting, peace disturbance, minor in possession, trespassing, third degree assault, or a traffic offense for youth 15 ½ years or younger.*

It should be noted that the number of juveniles referred to the Shoplifter's Program, Tobacco Program, and Victim Impact Panel have decreased due to the implementation of the Consequence Program.

Cognitive Behavioral Intervention (CBI)

The Thirteenth Judicial Circuit Family Court adopted the Cognitive Behavioral Intervention Theory. Cognitive behavioral interventions are based on techniques and practices that work to change thinking (cognition) and behavior (actions). The underlying principle of cognitive behavioral intervention is that if we alter our thinking, our behavior will change.

Questionnaire Summary

Each year the Boone and Callaway County Juvenile Offices send questionnaires to parents, guardians and juveniles asking their feedback regarding their experience with the court. The information obtained from these surveys is used to make changes in the juvenile programs, in order to better serve the community.

In 2010, a circuit total of 117 Intake Questionnaires were returned.

The following are a few comments given by the parents who filled out the surveys in 2010:

- ⇒ Everything was very good.
- ⇒ You did a very good job.
- ⇒ I think that you are doing excellent. I never expected to be involved in anything like this, but you all were very helpful and pleasant to deal with. Thanks!
- ⇒ Everyone was professional and so helpful. The officer really focused on making this a learning opportunity for my son. The officer is wonderful to work with and we thank the office for helping us through this experience.
- ⇒ Everything was handled greatly!
- ⇒ CSW ended up being a positive experience for my child. This turned into an outlet for her, where she ended up volunteering weekly and gaining self-confidence. Thanks for the help.
- ⇒ I just wanted to thank you for your courteous and considerate manner in your handling of this unfortunate situation.
